

Shadows studied by JCCE students

Fourth grade students in Devada Kimsey's science class are observing how shadows change size when an object is close or far away from a light source. Pictured in the science lab at John C. Calhoun Elementary School in Calhoun Falls are Jasmine Wells, Prescilla Hunt, Kerri Uncle, Cournassia Sanders, and Glen Moon.